MERCHANTS AID SOCIETY PLAY CENTERS

Recreation Facilities to Be Maintained for Children Through Winter.

District merchants will assist the playgrounds department of the public schools to keep open playgrounds which otherwise must close for lack of funds, it was announced yesterday. Business establishments in the vicinity of the various recreation centers near abandonment are expected to donate a percentage of their receipts on certain days to aid the supervisor of playgrounds. Miss Susie Root Rhodes, in keeping open playgrounds for the winter.

A majority of the playgrounds are equipped with covered pavilions and other shelters for the children in inclement weather. Miss Rhodes favors using these grounds as year-round recreation centers for growing school children.

Already one merchant at Eleventh street and Park road northwest has notified Miss Rhodes that his store will donate 20 per cent of the sales for November 24, 25 and 26 for the purpose of assisting in keeping open the Columbia Heights playground for the winter. He is Homer K. Butler, a druggist.

Miss Rhodes has accepted the offer, as she is anxious to have the Columbia Heights playground continue its work through January and February at least.

"A MUSICAL COMEDY HIT"—The Critics Said:

WASHINGTON POST:
The most delightful musical treat in years. Miss Day's exquisite charm and her splendid interpretation of the lingering tunes reminds us of "The Merry Widow" and "The Pink Lady."

WASHINGTON TIMES:
It's like a breath of fresh air to greet Irene—a skyrocket success. Miss Day's charming portrayal was another Mr. Manners' "Peg o' My Heart" with music.

"IRENE" WITH EDITH DAY

Book by James Montgomery
Lyrics by James McCarthy. Music by Harry Tinney
Staged by Edward Royce

HERALD:
It's difficult to overpraise "Irene." It's an overwhelming success.

Mr. Guy Bolton (who also wrote "Polly With a Past," "Adam and Eva"—the biggest comedy hit on Broadway now, and other favorites) has furnished the book.

Mr. P. G. Wodehouse stopped amusing readers of the Saturday Evening Post long enough to supply the lyrics, and they're both amusing and satirical.
